

Kill Hannah, The Collapse

Woke and nothing feels right
Can't believe i made it through the night
The sky was cracked like porcelain
And all the souls they rose and marched again
It's the same dream
It goes on and on and on and on
But this is where it ends
This is the collapse
This is the collapse
So don't you close your eyes
This is the collapse
It's just one of those days where nothing sounds right
It's just one of those days where nothing looks right
It's just one of those days where nothing feels right
And all these things go on and on and on and
On and on until tonight
This is the collapse
This is the collapse
So don't close your eyes
This is the collapse '
It's just one of those days where nothing feels right
It's just one of those days
I'm never going home
I walk among the ghosts
Of all my former loves
And all my future selves
This is the final straw
I'll take you by the throat
I'll shake you like a doll
Just feed my starving heart
