

Kim Richey, From Where I Stand

Funny we should meet
The three of us here on the street
You know, I've wondered what I'd say
Now the moment's here
And suddenly it's crystal clear
Some things ain't never gonna change
From where I stand
I see an old familiar story
Only last time I was in your shoes
Now it's looking like it's my turn
To be lonely and I tell ya
I don't like the view
I was just like you
For me, he left somebody, too
And I didn't care if that was wrong
Oh, but now I've found
The tears you cause come back around
And they're coming your way before too long
[Repeat Chorus]
From where I stand
We have a lot in common and
There's a good chance
You'll be standing one day right here
[Repeat Chorus]
