

Kim Richey, To Tell The Truth

I like to think nobody knows what's goin' on inside
You like to say it didn't mean a thing or hurt to say goodbye
I tell a joke, you laught too loud
The party never ends
We're not fooling anyone
So why try to pretend

CHORUS:

To tell the truth, I still love you
To tell the truth, you still care too
I can see it in your eyes, see it in your smile
Clear across the room
To tell the truth
To tell the truth
True love knows the real thing, baby
There's nowhere to hide
It hears every word you never say
And sees through every lie
Maybe we could find a way
To get beyond our pride
It's such a waste of precious time
To keep up this disguise

REPEAT CHORUS

To tell the truth
I still love you
