

Kim Sozzi, One Day At A Time

I'm not going back there again
Come so far from where I've been
I'm not gonna make it lying in bed
Or dreaming it up in my head

I said
Jumping rope in perfect time
On the cracks in all the lines
I see the colors of a butterfly
Shine

When I'm all sold out
And I'm cross the line
When I'm filtered down
I take it one day at a time

When I'm going south
And I'm far behind
There's no need to shove
I take it one day at a time

Sometimes I could just use a friend
To show me the light at the end
When walls feel like they are just closing again
That melody plays in my head

Jumping rope in perfect time
On the cracks in all the lines
I see the colors of a butterfly
Shine

When I'm all sold out
And I'm cross the line
When I'm filtered down
I take it one day at a time

When I'm going south
And I'm far behind
There's no need to shove
I take it one day

sometimes I just need to fill that space
I know it's hard but I'm come to face
All these stages, and all these changes

One day at time

When I'm all sold out
And I'm cross the line
When I'm filtered down
I take it one day at a time

When I'm going south
And I'm far behind
There's no need to shove
I take it one day at a time

When I'm sold out
When I'm filled with doubt
I'll take it one day at a time

One day at a time
