

Kim Wilde, Just A Feeling

Written by Ricky & Marty Wilde
Stand at the mirror and look at my face
See all the changes I know somethings wrong
But when I think back to the love that we had
I look for escape 'cos I know that it's gone
I always looked on the touch of our love
As a soft stream running over me
But I always knew there would be a way out
But for you, not for me
Just a feeling
Now all I see is the trace of a smile
Memories forgotten a long time ago
Never believed I could see you this way
I don't know what changed you, I'll just never know
I used to dream there was someone around
Who was there just to watch over me
Out in the crowds there was someone around
Who was meant just for me
Friends say "impossible"
But I say it's got to be
Just a feeling
repeat to fade
