

Kim Wilde, Trail of Destruction

Do you feel the pain
Now that your world's crashing down again
All the times we knew this moment had to pass
'Cos you'll forever know
The damage you caused before you hit the road
In your head always everybody else
You never owned it

No trace
No faith
Crude wasted lies are all that you have

You're still the man that you used to be
Always shooting from the same gun
A face I'll never trust
The truth has now become
Just another hit and run
You're a trail of destruction

They look up to you
Believe every word an' even vote for you
But the walls are far too gone to ever climb
So I'm breaking 'em down til there's

No trace, no faith
Crude wasted lies are all that you have now
Somehow their hearts melt...
But yours is cold as ice

You're still the man that you used to be
Always shooting from the same gun
A face I'll never trust
The truth has now become
Just another hit and run
You're a trail of destruction

Leave a trail of destruction

Spin the truth... feed the lies
Fake the words you justify
It's always been the same...
All this precious time you've wasted
Nowhere left to hide from us can't you see?
Losers never win the game

You're still the man that you used to be
Always shooting from the same gun
A face I'll never trust
The truth has now become
Just another hit and run
Leave a trail of destruction
Just another hit and run
Leave a trail of destruction
Destruction
Trail Of Destruction
Destruction

Destruction
Destruction
