

Kimya Dawson, It's Been Raining

my mother says that rain is angels
who are crying
up in heaven
and i believe that
'cause when sad things happen
it starts raining
it's been raining

it's been raining
for awhile now
it's been raining
at least forty days
and i've been crying
since the first time
someone i loved
passed away

i'll build an ark
inside my body
in a bottle
and disappear
'cause my soul is drowning missing people
that i wish could still be here
but it won't stop raining
and i can't stop crying my friends keep dying

it's been raining
for awhile now
it's been raining
at least forty days
and i've been crying
someone i loved
passed away

it's been raining
for awhile now
it's been raining
at least forty days
and i've been crying
passed away
