

King Cobb Steelie, Starvo

Never been so low

Half the world is dying while i'm waiting by the phone

Never want to be alone

Half the world denying what everybody knows

They want you to think that you always owe

While they make a killing selling greed to those who can afford

They'd take you down if you ever show

In living you believe not what you own

Start the fire

Never take me down