King Missile, Sensitive Artist

Sensitive Artist by John S Hall King Missile (dog fly religion) Fluting On The Hump Shimmy Disc 1987

I am a sensitive artist...

I am a sensitive artist.

Nobody understands me because I am so deep.
In my work I make allusions to books that nobody else has read,
Music that nobody else has heard,
And art that nobody else has seen.
I can't help it
Because I am so much more intelligent
And well-rounded
Than everyone who surrounds me.

I stopped watching tv when I was six months old Because it was so boring and stupid And started reading books And going to recitals And art galleries. I don't go to recitals anymore Because my hearing is too sensitive And I don't go to art galleries anymore Because there are people there And I can't deal with people Because they don't understand me.

I stay home Reading books that are beneath me, And working on my work, Which no one understands

I am sensitive... I am a sensitive artist...
