

King Missile, They

They can put a man on the moon
They can make soap out of people
And food out of wood
They can build machines that do the jobs of
Billions of human beings
They can feed the entire world
They can go zero to fifty in
Three point nine seconds
They can grow oranges in the desert
And tomatoes underwater
They can predict or affect the weather
Sometimes
They can create a disease
And then claim it's the cure
They can build superconductors
That will permanently alter
The way they live forever
They can make a coffee I like without caffeine
They can blow themselves up or away
Or the sun to explode
