

Kings Of Leon, Waste A Moment

Run away from echo
We hold the rabbit on a chain
Drove a little slick car to ten bar with the static on our brain
She's a little better, I bet I'm gonna throw you to the flame
Leave a ticking time bomb, time bomb, gonna blow us all away

Take the time to waste a moment
Never ask to be forgiven

Texi was her boyfriend with token always running from the law
Every other weekend, weekends with his back at her claw
He's a love wire, wire, shooting sparks in the night
He's a little bit higher, higher, with the beat in his sights

Take the time to waste a moment
Face's round and arm's broken
Name a price to all this living
Never ask to be forgiven
