

Kings Philosopher, The End

The End

For once in my life
I've done what I should Took this thing by the horns and started something new

First time for me but I'm tryin' to be something that is real

And it feels like this is the end
Though I know I'm starting again
It feels like this is the end
Though I know I'm starting again
its over ~

The dream of people like you
I could never touch
By some strange twist of fate
It would tear me up inside
But now I'm alright
But something died
So that I could stay alive

And it feels like this is the end
Though I know I'm starting again
It feels like this is the end
Though I know I'm starting again
its over ~

Oooooooooohhhooohoo

It feels like this is the end
Though I know I'm starting again
It feels like this is the end
Though I know I'm starting again
its over
