Kingston Wall, Welcome To The Mirrorland (3:46)

Welcome to the mirrorland where we all understand the time is now and around is just memories and premises So live now or to live outside the present time Present, that's nice, when you give you allways get back but when you take...? The mirrorland it's got lessons and lessons and prizes in between the mirrorland it's got history and it's got his story in the mirrorland As we pile now the things we used to feel before we get close to his presence who tells where to go it's that first sound you get before you think Afet that comes the one(*) that's reduced and it's Could it be so that all the answers are there all it takes is the peace to hear what it says
