

Kiros, S.O.S.

It's in moments like these
It's in moments of fear
When everything's obvious
And everything's clear
The weight of the world
It comes crashing down
The silence is deafening
As we hit the ground
And we'll hit the ground

So why did we chose
What can't satisfy
We lied to ourselves
And said everything's fine
But we can't run from this this time

Would somebody wake me up
Somebody wake me up
Someone wake me up
From this nightmare I've designed.

These tears have a reason
Confession flows down
Like mighty spring rivers
This season will drown
New hope for tomorrow
And new lessons learned
We'll live this with purpose
As history books burn
And they will burn

Somebody wake me up
Somebody wake me up
Someone wake me up
Will you wake me up

'Cause I tried to do this all alone
I need your strength and not my own
