

Kirsten Dunst, The Girl Inside

Everyone tells me that I'm not in fashion
I don't look like the girls in the magazines
They may be headen, but I've got my passions
I just don't parade around like some homecoming queen

Take a look here I am, can't you see
One simple smile from you could set me free
So if you take a look let your heart be your guide
I'll show you love if you take a look at the girl inside
