

Kirsty McGee, Lazy Eye Blues

honey i see you and i see the road
honey i see you and i see the road
much as i love you you know i'm bound to go

where i'm going the path runs thin much as i love you these's no room to spin no room to spin love i can't come back again
where i'm going the path runs thin

where i'm going the sky's so wide six thousand acres on each and every side six thousand acres where no man alive can hide where i'm going...

much as i love you you know i'm bound to go

i'm gonna miss you it's not a lie i'm gonna miss you honey, you know it's not a lie i'll miss your ragged smile, i'll miss your lazy eye

much as i love you you know i'm bound to go
