

Kisschasy, Anger Is The Brand New Thing

staring out across the floor this is what we're fighting for...for you taste the sweat, get off your knees it doesn't matter if i scream because you'll see that when we play the beat, it's what i live for it takes everything away from me so let it be, this is who i am and it takes everything away from me there's nothing that i would love more than to be a part of your scene i'll take a needle to my skin and write 'anger is the brand new thing' its so in i used to think that we were all the same but now i see, that your so much better maybe we're not cut out for your scene.
