

Kisschasy, Ghost

Two lovers dressed in their nighting gowns
Sleeping but their souls are somewhere else
Nobody came when they called for help
There was a ghost in the boy's bedroom
Wearing the boy's mother's perfume
He didn't know he would see her soon

[Chorus:]

It's watching you change
It's somewhere in the house
You can't get away
And baby cried her eyes out

[x2]

There was a leak in the kitchen sink
The carpet was red, now it's faded pink
There was enough for the walls to drink

[Chorus x2]

We are blinded by the gleam
We are following the sheep
It's like nothing we have seen before
Now I can't tell us apart

Take the dollar from your heart
It has taken everything we are Sheep! Dead! Meat!
