

Kisschasy, Opinions Won't Keep You Warm At Night

Wait while jealousy tears you apart
I'm sorry but I cannot help the way you are
That we do the things you can't

Just wait
can't you see you're being weak?
It's shallow and dark you know every time you speak
You're just lying through your teeth

Sometimes, days are like you say yet I don't agree with what you see
But I will never let the bitter things you say ever get to me

Sometimes, days are like you say yet I don't agree with what you see
But I will never let the bitter things you say ever get to me

We are everything you wish you were
But, I'm feeling kinda concerned
we're probably friends
But you hide from consequence

Yeah you must have a lot of spare time
To put down the words that you write
But no one cares
You should put your mind to rest

Sometimes, days are like you say yet I don't agree with what you see
But I will never let the bitter things you say ever get to me

Sometimes, days are like you say yet I don't agree with what you see
But I will never let the bitter things you say ever get to me

Get to me...
Get to me...

Sometimes, days are like you say yet I don't agree with what you see
But I will never let the bitter things you say ever get to me

Sometimes, days are like you say yet I don't agree with what you see
But I will never let the bitter things you say ever get to me
