

Kitty Wells, Cold And Lonely

The winds of loneliness blow strong since the one I love is gone

And I don't see no change in sight cold and lonely is the forecast tonight

The days are short and the nights are long it's been that way since you've been gone

Cold and lonely every night

Now you're gone from my arms I got no one to keep me warm

And cold and lonely is the forecast tonight

[piano]

The weatherman tonight has warned you'll need your love to keep you warm

I have no one to hold me tight and cold and lonely is the forecast tonight

The days are short...

(Cold and lonely is the forecast tonight)
