

Kitty Wells, I Gave My Wedding Dress Away

(sung) Tomorrow was to be my wedding day, but I gave my wedding dress away

Another will be holding my bouquet, and I gave my wedding dress away.

My baby sister wanted him, and so she took my place

It's worth my broken heart to see, the smile upon her face

I've cared for her since Mother went away, so I have my wedding dress away.

(spoken)

Everything I always wanted, she always wanted too, and maybe giving in to her was not the thing to

(Sung) If I could win him back again, our love would be divine, but I would break her heart the way
