

Kitty Wells, Other Cheek

I've done everything I can to make you love me

Though we're still no more than only friends

And you tell me I can never make you happy I won't turn the other cheek again

You placed your fun and bright lights before me

But one day when all your good times end

You'll find yourself alone on love's crossed highway

And I won't turn the other cheek again

Someday you may want a sweet someone

To share all the dreams that might have been well friend

Don't look for me cause you won't find me waiting

I won't turn the other cheek again

[ steel ]

Someday you may want...