

Kitty Wells, Waltz Of The Angels

The waltz of the angels the moonlight and you

The waltz of the angels I hear each time I hold you tightly in these arms of mine

It's surely from heaven this music I hear

When your lips say I love you in waltz time my dear

There must be a power much higher than I a writer of love songs way up in the sky

The maker of roses of love sweet and true

And the waltz of the angels the moonlight and you

[ steel ]

Oh hurry my darling to my waiting arms I'll love you forever and keep you from harm

We know love is endless our hearts have been kissed

By the waltz of the angels and far beyond this

There must be a power much higher than I a writer of love songs way up in the sky

The maker of roses of love sweet and true

And the waltz of the angels he wrote just for you
