

Kitty Wells, We Missed You

We missed you and we're glad you'll come home

The hours were never so lonely my eyes were never so strange

From watching and waiting and crying for you and hoping you'd come back again

Me and my heart and my lips and my arms we missed you each day you were gone

Me and my heart and my lips and my arms

We missed you and we're glad you'll come home

[piano]

A hope against hope you still love me there were so many mem'ries I care

And though you had gone many miles from my side my love followed you every step

Me and my heart and my lips...
