

Kitty Wells, What About You

The days have seemed long, and I have been lonesome
Recalling those dreams that never came true
The nights have been lonely, but now that's all over
I've paid my debt for trusting in you

(Chorus:)

Ev'ry day, your mem'ry grows dimmer
Clouds drift away, sunshine peaks through
Ev'ry night, no longer you haunt me
My conscience is clear, what about you

It's hard to believe that you are the same one
That once meant so much, who I loved so true
It's hard to know I worshipped a false love
But I've paid for it, what about you

(Repeat Chorus)
