

Kitty Wells, Where Is My Castle

More than once I've cried because impatience let me down

I could see the gold before the gold was found

Everytime I've trusted love to lead me by the hand

It circled back and left me where I stand

Where is my castle where is my destiny how much longer will I have to dream

Where is my sunshine where is my valley where is the love that's meant for me

[guitar - steel]

The next time I cross over that old bridge I'm gonna stay

I don't care if the river washes it away

Cause I'm not gonna take one step until the day I find

A man with a faithful heart and a made-up mind

Where is my castle...
