

Klaus Nomi, Nomi Song

If they saw my face,
could I still take a bow?
Will they know me,
know me, know me now?

Though I know my place,
if science will allow
will they know me,
know me, know me

Now I'm all alone.
It's like some kind of test
My, how I have grown
Will they know me now?

Will the human race,
lift their collective brow?
Will they know me,
know me, know me now?
