

Klee, Gold (English Version)

We shine the spy the twilight hours
And darkness falls on all that's ours
And yet we flee to open ground
Where light is found

The loneliness is not your home
Not alone
Not this time
Don't go back
We are part of something more
That seems to be
Just you and me
You and me

We would be so golden
We would be so golden
We would be so golden
We would be so golden
Just you and me

We are the stars in our own film
Every scene is ours to fill
The truth is that which lasts
To the end
Hand in hand

We would be so golden
Not this time
Don't go back
We are part of something more
that seems to be
Just you and me
You and me

We would be so golden
We would be so golden
We would be so golden
We would be so golden
Just you and me

We would be so golden
We would be so golden
Not this time
Don't go back
We are part of something more
that seems to be
Just you and me
You and me

Not this time
Don't go back
We are part of something more
that seems to be
Just you and me
You and me
