

Kleenex Girl Wonder, Tendency Right Foot Forward

Have you ever been so in love with a girl that you couldn't see past right now?
Well I never put that much faith in the world till the bottom of my world fell out Everyone has seen things inside their minds But only things you never really see I always guessed that I just wasn't made for these times till I realized the times made me

And I'm waiting for the pendulum to swing back And I'll grab onto the spike and fly From ignition to the moment of impact time just seems to roll on by Waiting for the moment to hit me Waiting for two lines to meet Tendency right foot forward, probability two left feet

Have you ever seen clouds look all-out morose when they're passing by the neon sun?
I have yet to shed my skin, but the moment I begin I'm quite confident that I'll be done
Have you ever felt so wax-winged and upset
That you can't just sit up and say There's a whole other world that's not moving yet
I wonder if it's going my way?

So now take to the sky
And crash into the flashing sun
Or run away, now
Which one are you to decide?
Temptation is only skin deep but desire is worldwide

I've been in the dark for ages only right now is there light Everyone is prone to changes but most don't give up without a fight
And the future might look quite horrid
But the truth is that I don't mind
Tendency right foot forward odds are on left behind
