

Kleenex Girl Wonder, The Nearest Future

I don't see what you see, you see me cryin
I don't see what you see, I see me cryin

What more could I need?
It's right here

I only want the things you give to me
I only see what I don't want to see

I only want the things you take away
I only hear the things you never say
I just can't be what you need me to be
There's no excuse to fall in love with me

Why waste your time? Just break my heart today
The nearest future is less than a heartbeat away
