

Kleerup, Requiem Solution (ft. Loreen)

The message is out,
I watched you begin again
Had it all figured out
I see what you've got
From knocking on Heaven's door!
You put yourself to rest down a river
When you woke up, you were touched by an angel
Nothing left to be found
Nowhere to be safe, you've been here before!
So you don't know your needs
Begging for ends to meet
You went up, you went down all around
But there's nothing to be found!

Am I gonna see you next autumn?
I'll be there when you're falling
It's alright! No doubt, somehow
You will find your way!
Am I gonna see you?
Am I gonna see you?
Paying the price based on an ending

See what you've done,
You've got nowhere to run
After knocking on Heaven's door!
You lay yourself to rest down the river
When you woke up, you were touched by an angel
Nothing left to be found
Nowhere to be safe, you've been here before!
So you don't know your needs
Begging for ends to meet
You went up, you went down all around
But there's nothing to be found!

Am I gonna see you next autumn?
I'll be there when you're falling
It's alright, somehow, no doubt
That you will find your way, way!
Am I gonna see you next autumn?
I'll be there when you're falling
It's alright!
You will find your way!
