

Knockout Theory, Out On A Limb

Im raving

Since that second I walked in the doorway

Saw you heating up the hallway

Never pausing for a second glance

You took the others for a ride

Your fingers tapping at your side

As if broadcasting red alert for help

And I came rushing

In these passing seconds grasp my hand

Were going down, were going down once again

All hopes held high, were on a roll

Defining who we are and everything we know

Out on a limb, woah, I cant let go

Its all for you

Heavy breathing

Every time we see a shitty movie

Watch that crap they run on Tuesdays, baby

And Im hoping

That this never stops to be amusing

Keeps us going through the years

Just maybe

We dont need a map, dont need a plan

Were going down, were going down once again

All hopes held high, were on a roll

Defining who we are and everything we know

Out on a limb, woah, I cant let go

Its all for you

Just say Im crazy Ill say Im simply waking up

Try to persuade me that this endeavors just too much

Why dont we find this awkward

Its wrong but were so right

All hopes held high, were on a roll

Defining who we are and everything we know

Out on a limb, woah, I cant let go

Its all for you

Its all for you
