

Kooks, All Over Town

Dear sir did I see you fleeting?
I care for your heart, but not for it beating
You tried to put a frown on me, fell me down
Your spreading bad things about me, all over town
But I'll show no frown

Because all over town,
Yes, all over town,
There are people who would undermine you if they could
Don't let them in

What do you see when you see me sir?
The very same thing that makes you bitter
See you'll say all these outrageous things, thats what you do
Yes but your no poet man
You just want everyone looking at you
So I'll show no frown

Because all over town,
Yes, all over this town,
There are people who would undermine you if they could
Don't let them in

Oh, all over town,
Yes, all over this town,
There are people who would undermine me if they could won't let them in
