

Korea, Insufficient Karma

Well, I want you to see through me, to make me feel alright
To be the king of the hill for once, to be the one tonight,
I will offer my own life to you if you take away my pain
So stop me now from going mad, don't make me look insane

How could I've been so wrong, I really thought I was the one for you.
And how could I've been so wrong, I really thought I was the one for you

I walked through the reasons, I never believed them, I thought you felt it too
I'm the king with no queen, I'm asleep with no dream, while awake I dream of you.

How could I've been so wrong, I really thought I was the one for you.
And how could I've been so wrong, I really thought I was the one for you.
