

Kosher, Take No Prisoners

People always talking about their problems and the world just keeps revolving,
you've gotta know this is gonna end.
What won't kill you will make you stronger and what you want,
you'll get it faster, cause in this game there's no rules to bed.
You wanna be somewhere else.
You can't do anything else.
You just wanna be alone, you wanna get out on your own.
You're unacceptable, your out of control.
You take no prisoners.
Tell me, please tell me something's wrong when you're on the street and you're own your own, you just don't let it slide.
Now what you wanna do is cover your ears,
(cause you're not gonna like what you're gonna hear)
it's gonna blow up every time.
All your friends around, blaming them.
People holding hands, hating them,
you just wanna be alone, you wanna get out on the road.
You wanna be somewhere else.
You can't do anything else.
You just wanna be alone, you want someone of your own.
