</lyrics>
I hold secret this aching feeling inside my chest
Until the day we meet
I'll never forget your warmth

These countless stars pass the night
Watching over the distant tomorrow's dreams

Slowly I want to reach my hand out
And touch the blue moon that I gaze upon
In search of you no matter what time

Ah, I'll be waiting
Always, always, to be by your side
I release this eternal oath
Into the sky

The memories we had that day drives me on no matter where
In an instance, it showers me
I'll never forget this brilliance

The eternity of time separates us
So what I desire is an inseparable bond

Under the far-reaching sky
I'll find you by the voices of the wind of the passing seasons
No matter where they go

Ah, I really really
Yearn the touch of your skin
I'll continue watching over you
No matter how far we're apart

Slowly I want to reach my hand out
And touch the blue moon that I gaze upon
In search of you no matter what time

Even if my loving
Is getting blown away by the nostalgic wind
I'll face you and start running

Ah, I'll be waiting
Always, always, to be by your side
I release this eternal oath
Into the sky
