&lt;/lyrics&gt;

I love your tone color, I'm into you as though this was all a maze
No matter what you do, resistance is futile; You always KO me
Give me your influence
I'll always be stimulated until I die
There's no mistaking it, no mistaking it
I want to be with you right now, my baby
I've come to feel eternity; my heart feels at ease when I hear your voice
Sometimes I shake violently
Even if I reach out my hand, it slips through, a thrown kiss
It's impossible, but it's alright; tell me everything
I want to feel it close to my ears, everyday, and you don't stop
I understand that you're not only mine, but...

I love your tone color, you're my baby
I'm always with you instead of someone else, all right?
I love your tone color, you're my baby
We get high in this big world

I love your tone color, I date you every day and night
I'm warmly enveloped, like I'm wearing wool; gushing forth one after another, the reflections of images
No matter when, and in any situation
Could you be familiar with me right away? It's a bit odd
There's no one else like you
My ever transforming baby
Like an alien riding on a saucer
When I come to my senses, I'm in a dream
Talk about your worries and beliefs, that's what I think, I'm completely dependent on you
In Japanese, English, any language is fine, I'll just listen
Fill up my memories of love

I love your tone color, you're my baby
I'm always with you instead of someone else, all right?
I love your tone color, you're my baby
We get high in this big world

I love your tone color, you're my baby
I'm always with you instead of someone else, all right?
I love your tone color, you're my baby
We love each other in this big world
