

Kris Kristofferson & Rita Coolidge, Back In My Ba

I'm back in my baby's arms again I'm thankful too
I'm back in my baby's arms again that love is true
I'm back in my baby's arms again where I should be Cause I know where I've been I was lost in sin
But I'm back in my baby's arms again

Well I hurt her so that I had to hide I would stay away not to face my pride
But she saw me through to the truth inside
And I'm back in my baby's arms again with the love that I stole
I'm back in my baby's arms again God bless her soul
I'm back in my baby's arms again and I know it's real

I pray the Lord I remember when cause it's better now than it's ever been
He came back to me like a long lost friend and I'm back in my baby's arms again
I'm back in my baby's arms again I'm thankful too...
I'm back in my baby's arms again
