

Kristian Valen, Living The Dream

I feel each breath you're taking as I watch you fall asleep I'm writing you this letter for strength in time of need when I'm not there if you should ever feel small
- know I care in your heart everywhere when another day is dawning I'm a thousand miles away remember what I told you I promise I won't stray
I'll be right there
I'll be the sunshine
- the wind in your hair just whisper my name you take me higher, babe higher than I've ever have been you show me sides of life I've never seen I'm living the dream
I know it won't be easy I can't stop the rain the waiting drives me crazy but I still feel the same I'll be right there
I'll be the fire that burns in your heart you just whisper my name you opened my eyes so I could see unraveled the mystery in me