

Kristin Hersh, Sundrops

You can't get any more sunshine
I can't get over how it rains down
Oh no no no.

You can't get any more sunshine
you can't get any more broken down
Oh no no no.

Is the car parked downtown leave it while the sun beats down we can walk and walk and walk walk and walk and walk.

You can't get any more sunshine
barefoot while the heat rains down
Oh no no no.

There's nothing I forgot
I left that paper heart where it belonged who it belonged to,
I never knew I never never knew.

Paper burns and my heart melts when I tear at you.

Sun drops down down now now now now.
