

Kristine Sa, Real Emotion

I remember everything you said that night
In your loneliness, your heart was with me
And I know you were confused, I felt your fright
But you held my hand, and stood so bravely
Everything has changed
Nothing feels the same
Are you lonely where you are right now?
In my dreams, I see you
I can feel you here somehow

Reality and dreaming feel the same whenever I'm with you
It must be real if...
The way I feel is really just another sad illusion too
I don't believe it
You're close to me
Wherever you may be

What should I believe in if my heart decides
To believe in you, to return one day
If I close my eyes you're right there by my side
I refuse to think, you're so far away
Everything has changed
Nothing feels the same
Are you lonely where you are tonight?
In my dreams, I see you
I can feel you hold me tight

Reality and dreaming feel the same whenever I'm with you,
It must be real if...
The way I feel, is really just another sad illusion too
I don't believe it,
I'm close to you
I know that much is true...
