

Kristine W., Never Been Kissed

Now have you ever said the things that turned you on Felt worship and knew that you belong
Been good but knew somethins was missing
That something might be found in just a kiss
Let love take you...I bet you never
I wanted to make you..I want to bet you never
Bet there's something someone's missed
Bet you've never been kissed like this
I bet you never..I bet you never
I bet you never..I bet you never ever
Bet there's something someone's missed
Bet you've never been kissed like this

You know you work me like a perfect piece of art
I want to hang you frame you right here on my heart
Feel the places you that know you can't resist
There's nothing on that body that I would not kiss
Let love take you
I want to make you
Bet there's something someone's missed
Bet you've never been kissed like this
I bet you never..I bet you never
I bet you never..I bet you never
There's got to be something someone's missed
Bet you've never been kissed like this

Bet you've never been kissed like this
I wish you never
I hoping you never ever
If I had only one wish
It's that you've never been kissed like this
Let love take you.
I want to make you.
Bet there's something someone's missed
Bet you've never been kissed like this
I bet you never..I bet you never
I bet you never..I bet you never
I bet you never..
There's something that was missed
I want to kiss you like this

If there's something you have missed
I'm just waiting for the one kiss
