

Kristy Lee Cook, Good Luck

I wish you well, I wish you the best
And I hope you find, what you haven't yet
You had the charm, the brains, and the looks
Now all you need is a rabbit's foot

Good luck trying to find somebody better than me
Good love is hard to find, baby, can't you see
Good bye and leave thinking what you want to believe
Good luck trying to find somebody better than me

I hope on your search you don't get lost
And I want you to know that'll have my fingers crossed
You have the will and now you have the time
You better pick up every penny you find

Good luck trying to find somebody better than me
Good love is hard to find, baby, can't you see
Good bye and leave thinking what you want to believe
Good luck trying to find somebody better than me

You have the will and now you have the time
You better pick up every penny you find

Good luck trying to find somebody better than me
Good love is hard to find, baby, can't you see
Good bye and leave thinking what you want to believe
Good luck trying to find somebody better

Good luck trying to find someone better than me
Good love is hard to find, baby, can't you see
Good bye and leave thinking what you want to believe
Good luck trying to find somebody better than me

Good luck
Good luck trying to find someone better than me
Good luck, good luck
Better than me
