

Kristy Thirsk, Home For Angels

(Rosse/Thirsk)

some of us need protection from a certain kind of weapon all of the imperfections we perceive can start to threaten us to believe that we can't be loved when all we need is to be home home for angels is a heart that's open so far angels can't be scared away home for angels can be chaos and rejection i'm a home for angels some of us have addictions that harbour hate into afflictions why do we covet pain as our crystal ball for all predictions? we pay to believe that we can be loved
when all we need is to be home
home for angels is a heart that's open
so far angels can't be scared away
home for angels can be chaos and rejection
i'm a home for angels
i'm a home for angels
i'm a home
i'm a home
i'm a home for angels
yes, i'm a home for angels