

Kristy Thirsk, Over It

(Rosse/Thirsk)

i have been strong to get over this my tears have moved on but before they left they inspired a song and what a nice soul that's more than you will ever know so just comfort yourself i'm alive and more wise to know that i got over it i'm not looking through torn now so vision i got over it i've been living on so high euphoria, don't ask me if i'm living yet i've never felt so alive don't waste your thoughts, get over it i was never lost, i'm closer than you here yeah, i have a doll-like face but i can fall from grace come here to me now and have a taste you have to comfort yourself i'm alive and more wise to know that i got over it (don't ask me) i'm not looking through torn now so vision i got over it (don't ask me)
i've never felt so alive
i lost your shadow once, but if you'd only can be, alone and empty i'm better off alone 'cause i'm burning now and i'll just come for myself
i've never felt so alive
i never felt more alive
i never felt more alive
i never felt more alive
i never felt more alive
