

Kruk, It Will Not Come Back

Laugh, cry, sin
A sign Of your life
Will not come back

Day, moment, time
Fades like a shadow
Will not come back

Whisper, love, dream
Screams inside your soul
Will not come back

Spark, flame, thee
I could still want so much
It will not come back

Where shall i go
What matters today
Too many roads
Chaos and pain
I shall not come back to be with you

To care or not care
I have no more strenght
Disregard the past
Turn your heart to stone
Be a bastard untill the end of your days

You'll never know
What i could give
Fly like a bird
Beneath your dreams
My love's turned to ash
Its filling my heart

To care or not care
I have no more strenght
Disregard the past
Turn your heart to stone
Be a bastard untill the end of your days

Now you can go
Now you are free
Those moments are go now, forever
I'm turning the time
Into endless line
Leaving a world away from sorrow
Nobody tells me now
How to live and who to love
I close my heart
And i'm free again
