Krux, Omfalos

There is a passage through the dark Where you can crawl and you can walk Underneath the stairs you'll find a hole That'll lead you to the navel of the world

A basin full of stars The great infected heart So near but still so far Will tell you who you are

Omfalos [3x]

You pass between shadow fear and night Must elude the gift of day and light Dig your way into the muddy soil Never near the navel of the world

Die and you will see Your reality Forever you will be The king of misery

Omfalos [3x]

Deep inside the core we all will weep When we meet the darkness and the sleep Time and space are trapped into a whirl You're climbing down the navel of the world

Omfalos [9x]
