

Krypteria, The Promise

He said: Just sign your name across the dotted line and take advantage of the goods I have to offer
It wont cost you much just a single drop of blood and Ill hand you the things you have long been wishing for
Its an easy way to choose, what do you have to lose ?

Will I fall ? Opulentiam aeternam gloriamque te promitto

Will I stand tall ? Quidquid agis prudenter agas et respice finem

Will I fall ? Venustatem infinitam gloriamque te promitto

Will I stand or fall ? Quidquid agis prudenter agas et respice finem

Should I sign and end this lifelong string of broken dreams of failure, shattered hopes, of trials and tribulations
It wont cost a thing all the world will hear me sing and Id have all the riches, the fame and everything I want

Its an easy way to choose, what do I have to lose ?

Will I fall ? Opulentiam aeternam gloriamque te promitto

Will I stand tall ? Quidquid agis prudenter agas et respice finem

Will I fall ? Venustatem infinitam gloriamque te promitto

Will I stand or fall ? Quidquid agis prudenter agas et respice finem

Should I sign and blindly dance along the pipers tune or should I rather trust my inner voice to guide me
I dont own a lot but I still got one last shot so do I need to believe in a promise and its seed ?

Am I willing to choose when its myself I could lose ?

Will I fall ? Opulentiam aeternam gloriamque te promitto

Will I stand tall ? Quidquid agis prudenter agas et respice finem

Will I fall ? Venustatem infinitam gloriamque te promitto

Will I stand or fall ? Quidquid agis prudenter agas et respice finem
