

Krypteria, Trust Your Heart

Your feel it's time to surrender
Feel like a victim of circumstance
You made a promise don't you remember?
It's time that you understand you
Are the only one
To turn the key to destiny
Remember you need to stay true to your heart
And don't forget who you are
For then she'll eventually be back in your arms,
A brandnew start
Trust your heart and make up your mind
It's time to lay it on the line, search for Answers deep inside
Trust your heart and make up your mind
You know that time flies, got to cast
Your fears aside
You said come hell or high water
When things get rough she could count on you
Can't you see you're about to hurt her?
It's time that you understand you are
The only one
To turn the key to destiny
Remember you need to stay true to your heart
And don't forget who you are
For then she'll eventually be back in your arms,
A brandnew start
Trust your heart and make up your mind
It's time to lay it on the line, search for answers deep inside
Trust your heart and make up your mind
You know that time flies, got to cast
Your fears aside