

Kurczat, Tongue biting

It will be better if you don't realize what I had to tell you but I didn't tell you that the most beautiful things of my mind you'll never hear that you won't be surprised.
I bite my tongue maybe this can save the world though I'm getting mad and my frustrations growing up I bite my tongue and everythings gonna be all right I've done it more tha one million times.
It's damn all right it will save us from the crash the biggest one which can ever happen it doesn't matter that explosive things in my head burn me out from the inside yeah that's no problem.
